

Institute of Psychology, University of Wrocław, Courses 2018-2019
ERASMUS+

Teacher's name	Subject/Module title	Kind of classes	Number of hours	Semester	Course description	ECTS credits
Dr Jarosław Klebaniuk (9 hours) Dr Marcin Czub (6 hours)	Educational module: Contemporary trends in psychology – chosen issues	Lecture	15	Winter	The course is thought to present selected issues, concepts and research achievements of the modern psychology. The participants will be acknowledged with fundamental as well as recent research on: right-wing authoritarianism and attitudes towards social inequalities and Visual Cognition.	4
Dr Maja Biata	Interpersonal Training	Workshop	30	Winter	It is a training with workshops elements (workshop skills gaining addressed to students of psychology) mastering interpersonal competences through acting and social confrontation. The aim of it is to improve interpersonal functioning of an individual (working on self-esteem, self-consciousness, creativity and openness) and an individual in a group (interpersonal communication, assertiveness, social integration, mechanisms of group functioning). Additionally, students of psychology will train and model their own workshops skills and will deepen theoretical grounds of the areas trained. A combination of behavioural and cognitive training.	5
Mgr Agata Groyecka	Nonverbal communication	Workshop	20	Winter	The course covers a selection of issues from the scope of nonverbal communication, including: 1. The roles of gestures, mimicry and posture 2. Cultural differences in nonverbal communication. 3. Evolutionary approach to nonverbal communication (signaling in mate selection). 4. Nonverbal aspects of vocal communication. 5. Personal distance and territory in communication.	4
Dr Marcin Czub	Virtual Reality use in Psychology	Workshop	45	Winter	During the course students will be designing and conducting experimental studies related to Virtual Reality applications in psychology. They will acquire both theoretical and practical knowledge, and skills related to this field.	6
Dr Dorota Kanafa-Chmielewska	Antecedents and consequences of job satisfaction	Workshop	30	Winter	The objective of the course is to acquaint Students with the main theories and research on job satisfaction. The main objective of the course is to conduct research in the aforementioned area. The impact will be put on the preparation and realisation of the research project as well as calculation and presentation its results.	6
Prof. dr hab. Alicja Senejko	Educational module: Current issues in psychological theory and practice - Contemporary dilemmas in the process of Youth development	Lecture	15	Summer	The main aim of lecture is to present fundamental issues connected with difficulties of forming adolescents' personal identity at the time of dynamic transformations of globalization. Psychological development in adolescence is portrayed in the perspective of getting the chances and also threats associated with life of younger and older youth in 21-st century.	4
Dr Dorota Kanafa-Chmielewska	Work and Organizational Psychology	Seminar	15	Summer	The objective of the course is to acquaint Students with the main theories and research on industrial and organizational psychology in the areas of personnel psychology, and the work environment. The fundamentals of industrial and organizational psychology comprise knowledge on the structure and functional aspects of organization and consequences of individual differences among employees. The impact will be put on the implementations of the	4

Institute of Psychology, University of Wroclaw, Courses 2018-2019
ERASMUS+

					achievements of work and organizational psychology in modern management and human resources practices.
Dr Katarzyna Durniat	Workplace pathologies and employees wellbeing	Seminar	30	Summer	The objective of the course is to provide students with fundamentals of scientific knowledge on workplace pathologies (vs. healthy work environment and employees' wellbeing), focusing on various forms of workplace harassment (esp. mobbing/bullying, burnout, power abuse, etc) from the perspective of work and organizational psychology (with some elements of social and clinical approach as well). The workplace pathologies and employees' wellbeing will be presented and discussed from current international legal and scientific and perspective.	6
Dr Magdalena Ślęzyk Sobol	Coaching	Workshop	30	Summer	This course aims to give participants an understanding into the dynamics that happen between people when they work one-to-one, explain what coaching is and is not and provide opportunities to practice workplace coaching skills.	5
Dr Maja Biąta	Group work	workshop	45	Summer	The aim of the course is to learn the basics of working with different groups: from psychotherapeutic groups to social relations in the organization. The participants' own experience will be the basis of the classes - in the context of interpersonal relations in the group and managing the group process.	6